msuleadersinit.com

Create an informational site for the Leaders In IT club at Michigan State University.

msuleadersinit.com will be an informational site about the Leaders In IT campus club. The site will serve mainly as a way to display information about the club to gain prospective members. Along with new members, the site will display schedules and events so that current members can stay up to date. Finally, the site will be a way to provide information to companies and recruiters about both the club and the club's members. A main feature of the site will be a resume book of the current members. Contact information will be provided for prospective members.
